The board of Directors of the University of Dayton Alumni Association held its meeting Dec. 14, 1949 in the Conference Room in St. Mary's Hall.

The following members of the board were present: Edward Breen, president; Father George J. Renneker, S.M., president, U. D.; Dr. John Duchak, Dayton; Elmer Will, Osborn; Brother Elmer Lackner, S. Merle P. Smith, '25 former alumni secretary, general manager of the Joyce-Cridland Company, and city commissioner for the city of Dayton was nominated to fill the chair on the board.

A brief review and evaluation of the Homecoming activities was given. Two new members of the Alumni Association Board of Directors were installed at the annual business meeting of the association at Homecoming, Oct. 22. Frank H. Marshall, '31, and John T. The Board recommended that the Caucus and the Dance be continued.

Coming events of the Centennial Year brought to the attention of the Board were:

1. Chaminade Day—Jan. 12, 1950. On this day a Mass was read at Holy Angels Church at 10:15 a.m., for U. D. students.
2. Academic Convocation, March 16. Registration and luncheon will take place on the U. D. campus. The program will be conducted at 2:00 p.m., in the auditorium of the National Cash Register Company. A pontifical High Mass will be celebrated in the Immaculate Conception Chapel on March 21, 1950.
3. National Closing—May 16-17. Father Edwin Weber, S.M., Director of the Marianist Promotion Service will have the chairmanship of this final Society of Mary Centennial event. Definite plans will be announced later.

U. D. Annual Award to be Made in May

An announcement has been made by Father Edwin Weber, S.M., Marianist Promotion Director at the University of Dayton that an annual Marianist award in honor of the Blessed Virgin Mary will be made to an outstanding Catholic citizen.

The first award will be made May 17, 1950—the closing day of the Triple Centennial Celebration of the Society of Mary. Thereafter, the award will be made on December 8—Feast of the Immaculate Conception and the patronal feast of the United States of the Society of Mary. This award will be made each year to a citizen, preferably a layman in the United States, who has performed an outstanding service for the Mother of God.

The award, similar to the Laetare Metal and the Vercelli Metal, will be a chased-silver shield on an ebony base. It will bear a reproduction of the Blessed Virgin Mary in the center and the three symbols of the Marianist Centennial—a bust of Father Chaminade, a ship, and a spire of the University of Dayton Chapel on the borders.

These border designs are to serve as symbols of the three high points in the University of Dayton Centennial—the death of Father Chaminade, the arrival of the Society of Mary in the United States, and the founding of the University of Dayton.

The committee that will choose the 1950 winner is composed of Father Henry J. Kobe, S.M., Vice-President and Dean of the University; Father Lawrence Monheim, S. M., Director of the Marian Library; and Father Ed. Leimkuhler, Head of the Religion Dept.

This society of Mary award will be listed in the National Catholic Almanac with other national awards in future years.

Evening Curricula At U. D. is Revised

Acting on information gained from a recent personal survey of educational needs in relation to industry in the Dayton area, University of Dayton has launched a triple-point program which will supplement the regular Evening Classes curriculum. Robert Mitchell, assistant director of Evening Classes is in charge of the project.

The three phases include, first, a general strengthening of the U. D. evening program; second, establishment of "feeler" courses in anticipation of an Industrial Engineering program; and third, possible initiation of a "Technical Institute" program such as is in operation at several major universities.

To date, stress has been placed on the first phase—that of widening and reprocessing the evening curriculum. The survey showed what adults in the community felt was needed to round out their technical education and what further education courses would better the possibilities of salary advances in their specific fields.

Several courses completely new to the University and others which had been taught previously only in the day classes have been installed.

For organizational purposes Mitchell has placed these and other revised courses allied to the industrial program in six categories...engineering, purchasing, sales, controllers division, industrial manufacturing or inspection, and industrial relations. This breakdown has no bearing on degree listings; it constitutes a balancing of courses in the six areas.

"It will now be possible," Mitchell stated, "for 90% of the people in Dayton plants to come to U. D. and find six or eight courses designed specifically for their particular field."

Many of these courses are being offered as a result of direct requests from Dayton industries. It is expected that additional courses will be installed as the demand arises.

Brother Elmer C. Lackner, S.M., Registrar and director of Evening Classes at U. D., said of the program, "Since 1922 the university has continually tried to service the adult education needs of the community through the evening classes; however, it remained for the current study to correlate isolated offerings into a unified program for mature student needs.

BROTHER ELMER LACKNER, S.M. DIRECTOR OF THE EVENING DIVISION, AND ROBERT I. MITCHELL, check on the results of a survey conducted for the purposes of determining the needs of industry in Dayton. The curriculum of the Evening Division is being reorganized to accommodate industry and to be of greater service to the community.

U.D. Chorus to Appear In Columbus, Cleveland, and Akron

True to its tradition, the University of Dayton Chorus has already started its work for the New Year, in an effort to bring better music and fame to our Alma Mater not only in Dayton and vicinity, but if possible, throughout the United States.

Successfully finishing last season with tours of local and Miami Valley high schools, the Chorus gave a series of programs comprising serious and light music, ranging from Palestrina and Bach to the latest creations of modern composers.

The climax of the Chorus' work was achieved during Centennial week when it was called to sing at the inauguration ceremony of the Mechanical Engineering building. It appeared on a nationwide television program, featuring the first century of progress at the University of Dayton.

Closing last year's work was the Annual Christmas Concert given in the auditorium of Oakwood High School. A program of Christmas and spiritual music was presented.

The new year—1950—finds the Chorus busier than ever preparing a program for a nationwide broadcast over the network of the Columbia Broadcasting System to be given Sunday, Jan. 22.

Following the broadcast the Chorus will go on a tour between semesters. This schedule includes concerts in Columbus, Ohio, Jan. 23. Cleveland, Ohio will be the next stop. There the U. D. Chorus will appear on Jan. 24, at 2:00 p.m. at St. Augustine's High School, in Lakewood. At 8:00 p.m. the Chorus will be featured at Cathedral Latin High School as part of that school's centennial festivities.

Continuing from Cleveland the Chorus will make its final appearance of this tour in Akron's St. Vincent High School, Jan. 25, at 2:00 p.m.

With the beginning of the spring term the Chorus will start preparations—some of them already underway—for an appearance with the Dayton Philharmonic at Memorial Hall, March 7, as one of the features on the Philharmonic's program. Another event is scheduled in conjunction with the U. D. Modern Dance group.

Tentative plans include another appearance over a local television station in April, and a combined presentation with the U. D. Players, under the direction of Mr. John I. McGrath.

Highlighting this year and concluding the season will be the presentation of a program at the 1950 Commencement on June 3.

Under the able leadership of Mr. Nelson N. Harper, director of the U. D. Chorus, the organization has become a well versed group, with a repertoire of the high grade of work done in the past and worthy of the future in which the Chorus hopes to be able to spread yet wider the University of Dayton's fame.

An invitation is extended to alumni and their friends to attend any or all of the concerts, if you so desire. We are certain you will enjoy the program.

February 17—Date of the Centennial Prom

The traditional University of Dayton Junior Prom will be held at Lakeside Ballroom on Friday, Feb. 17, 1950, from 9:00 p.m., until 1:00 a.m.

Members of the junior class responsible for the arrangements are: James Walsh, Conneaut, Ohio, general chairman; Jim Leist, Dayton, chairman of general arrangements; Mike Hennessy, Floral Park, New York, publicity chairman. Donald Cosgrove, Norwood, will be in charge of tickets, printing, and reservations. Marianne Rolle, Dayton, will have the responsibility of decorations and program design. James Leary, Dayton, heads the finance committee. Richard E. Mayer, Cleveland, will serve as program chairman and master of ceremonies, and Louis Buckner, Stewart Manor, New York will be responsible for the campaign and the election of the junior prom queen.

We would like to extend an invitation to all to be present and enjoy the festivities of this gala occasion.

The calendar must be wrong

The University of Dayton's basketball Flyers aren't living up to Coach Tom Blackburn's pre-season prediction of "We're still a year away."

That year appears to have arrived as the Flyers hopped off to a 10 game winning streak before bowing to Loyola of Chicago (69-46) and then rebounded to trim high-scoring Morris Harvey, Arizona State, Marshall College, Loyola of Baltimore, and Ohio U.

The defeat by Loyola of Chicago, however, tends to lend weight to Blackburn's prediction. The Ramblers are recognized as one of the nations basketball powers. To be a rated team the Flyers will have to be able to more than hold their own against clubs of and above Loyola's caliber.

The Flyers, even without a rating however, have slipped into the nation's cage spotlight. According to National Collegiate Athletic Bureau figures Dayton ranks among the top 10 major college fives in defense.

And Don (Monk) Meineke, 7' 7" sophomore center, is ninth in the nation in the percentage of field goals made per try. Meineke's 48.2% of shooting average has been mounting with each game.

While the tall lad has been pouring through points, the floor play of Dick (Razor) Campbell, 6' 3" guard from Columbus, O., along with the driving of Leland (Junior) Norris, 6' 1" guard, have been key factors in the success of the Flyers.

Campbell is the Flyers floor leader and the ball handling and passing of the sophomore leaves little to be desired. Norris is third in the point parade. Big Don netted 256 points in the first 16 games. Norris hit for 150.

Lanky Chuck Grigsby, 6' 4" forward and center, has come fast since the Flyers opener and has 151 points to his credit. Chuck hit five straight field goals before missing in the Flyers 68-41 rout of Marshall.

One of the Flyers finest players is an unheralded member of the squad. He's Pete Boyle, 6' 3" forward. Boyle's point average is not impressive—He's potted 87—but his play off the backboards and his aggressive defensive action have been one reason for the Flyers fine showing.

Boyle's points, mostly from far out, have come when the Flyers needed them most.

The two pint-sized members of Blackburn's squad have played key roles in the victory string. Bobby Flynn, 5' 7" junior forward, pulled the Miami University game out of the fire with fast action and 14 points (The Flyers won 66-50) and Gene (Ghost) Joseph, 5' 10" sophomore forward, was given a defensive assignment against high-riding once beaten Marshall—stop the Herds fast break.

Joseph, using his speed to good advantage and aided by sharp floor work of his teammates, did just that. The Flyers turned the game into a rout in building up a startling 41-15 halftime lead.

Another lad certain to see plenty of action this season is up and coming Clete Oberst, 6' 1" sophomore guard. Oberst's improved play has earned him increased playing time and Springboro's Jimmy Hough, 6' 2" sophomore forward, earned at least one of his spurs when his field goal in the last 20-seconds enabled the Flyers to defeat Cedarville 41-40 and stretch their win streak earlier in the season.

As the Flyers move on into rough going Jack and Dick Zimmerman and Bob Busse, 6' 4", No. 2 pivot man, seem certain to make their presence felt. The Flyers need plenty of good reserve strength for their tough January drive when they meet (all on opponents' floors) Xavier, Bowling Green, Baldwin-Wallace, Muskingham and Kent State in a period of six days—but they'll be getting plenty of help by then from an outstanding cager who becomes eligible Jan. 20. He's Don Bolton, 6' 2" guard from Middletown, Ohio.
